Character Analysis:

Demetrius Williamson's character speaks volumes in one conversation. He has a mental toughness to him. He is a mature, humble athlete while maintaining competitiveness necessary to compete at an elite level. Williamson has a hard-working attitude and is extremely coachable. Along with his leadership qualities, he is intelligent, graduating in May 2010 with a MBA Master's Degree. His verbal communication skills show room for improvement. At Niagara, he has been the face of the team to the media, constantly being involved in interviews, speaking on behalf of the team and acts as an ambassador for the team. He is a great teammate.

Player Profile:

Demetrius has tremendous upside. He is a true wing player with excellent size. He has a good build and is extremely athletic. This would be one of Demetrius' main strengths (athleticism) along with him being a great rangy shooter and his ability to run the floor. On his perimeter jumpshot, he shows good form and fundamentals. He is an excellent catch and shoot guard. He can knock down the open shot from anywhere on the floor. He can attack the rim going in both directions. Improvement is needed on his one on one moves. Right now, his best one on one move is one to two dribbles, pull-up or attacking the rim. At the rim, he is an explosive finisher though this is an aspect of his game that is not seen enough. He shows a great feel for the game and basketball IQ for he picks up on offensive and defensive schemes fast. He has great off the ball movement. He has good quickness with his track background (ran track at the University of Missouri). He is a capable passer and ball handler with room for improvement.

Demetrius Williamson

Demetrius does all of the intangibles; hustle, fundamentals, toughness, competitive. He has a highly intriguing versatility. Demetrius can guard up to four positions on the floor. He is a great defender possessing good instincts, vision, position, anticipation, awareness and strength. He is a good on the ball and ball screen defender, contest shots well, and a good shot blocker with his leaping ability at the guard position. With his potential as being a great defender on the next level, he should look to improve more on his lateral quickness.
